MARKET MYSTERIES.

SOMETHING ABOUT THE POWER BE-HIND THE THRONE.

How Railroad Stocks are Manipulated to to Suit the Times as Well as the Market—Cereal Statistics—Exports and Home Consumption—Notes

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Stock operations have been greatly decentralized during the past week and a heavy depression in prices took place, apparently as the result of a fractional reduction in the quarterly dividend upon the preferred stock of the Chicago & North Western Railway. It was asserted at first that this reduction was merely a pretext for starting a movement which has been in preparation among room traders for several days past. They had made up their minds that the market in stocks during July and August had discounted all the benefits likely to accrue from the prospective settlement of the railroad war, and the different consolidated and unconsolidated schemes of price manipulation. They saw that the buying of stocks by the bankers and railroad magnates interested in the new consolidation deals was suspended; that a part of their speculation had been sold off at a large profit, and they concluded that it was safer to sell than to buy stocks just now.

Their conclusion so far was correct; but it remains to be seen whether the manipulation of stocks will continue to the same extent. A large short interest in such as present condition of the market is just the thing that great London and New York manipulators would like to see. There can be no question that the stock bought by the room traders held both here and in London in very strong hands; that they cannot be forced upon the market by an artificial raid and can not be sold in a legitimate way either, unless the market is again manipulated. The wealthy men who went into the last stock exchange deal did so for a long pull, and will probably not attempt to dispose of the bulk of their holdings before all the legal and illegal steps have been taken to sustain the market and the results shown at least in the prospective if not in the actual earnings of the roads, and this would take at least ten to twelve months. That the men engaged in the manipulation of stocks in New York and Nickel Plate deal are not bent on a mere scalping expedition is evident from the way in which they proceed.

On the contrary they charge $20 for every $1,000 worth of bonds that have not been subscribed to them. They are willing to take everything that is offered to them in the shape of securities of the companies connected with the new scheme. The West Shore bonds have been bought up in about one month's time, the swelling in the rest of the Ontario & Western has been gobbed up by Mr. Edward D. Adams, of the firm of Winslow, Lanier & Company, without even a moment's notice. The very rapid transmission seems now to be going on in regard to the Nickle-Plate bonds. Street rumors have it that the same Mr. Adams has charge of the Nickle-Plate bonds, and Mr. J. P. Morgan, of one of the largest concerns. If report is to be correct the success of the scheme is assured, for Mr. Adams is one of the shrewdest and most close mouthed young financiers in New York. He has great advantage of being known at all the right places, but people who are on the inside track of the recent consolidation schemes aver that Adams was the real power behind the throne, and that he is the master of all the cards. Chasney M. Dewey, and the rest of that clique were but practically carrying out the quiet intention suggested by Adams.

Whether these reports be correct or not we do not know, and Mr. Adams may as well have been a free advertiser, even if he does not like it. It seems that it is upon the suggestion of this young, handsome and mild mannered financier, that the trust funds which were to be invested are to be consumed are going to be used to the dignity of a regular trust fund bond by means of registration. A $1 cent bond, running for 45 years, guaranteed both in interest and principal, by the company, will be extended, step by step, for registered bonds, will go into investment channels and bring thus taken off Wall street will be put out of reach of all speculators.

There is so much wild talk going on in regard to the future of the grain market, the shortness of crops and the supposed "unprecedented" depression in the price of wheat, that a few statistical facts will be given to please those who are being enticed to buy wheat because its price is "so very low."

The production of wheat in 1875 was about 73,000,000 bushels, and the exports up to date of $10,000,000. Last year the production amounted to 50,000,000 bushels, and an increase in production of 210,000,000 bushels, and in export of 38,000,000 bushels. In 1876 38,000,000 bushels were produced, yet in that year we exported 184,000,000 bushels, or more than in any year before or since. In fact the exports gradually decreased until after that year, and Jim Keene's demons come to tell them down last year to 11,000,000 bushels.

The home consumption in 1875 amounted to nearly 229,000,000 bushels, increasing in 1876 to 230,000,000 bushels. The production increased from 1,200,000 bushels in 1875 to 1,810,000 bushels in 1876, the exports increasing from 30,000,000 bushels in the former year to 100,000,000 bushels in the latter, and the home consumption increased to 230,000,000 bushels in 1876.

The great decrease in exports of wheat from this country, is clearly traceable to the competition of Australia, Russia and India, and the development of railroad facilities abroad, during the last three or four years. Highest wheat prices for twenty-seven years: Wheat, May, 1877, highest $2.88; lowest, July, 1859, $0.50; corn, highest, 1878, $1.00; lowest, Sept., 1878, $0.40; oats, highest, 1878, $1.20; lowest, June, 1861, 13-1/2c; pork, highest, July, 1878, $4.50; lowest, Dec., 1878, $1.00; bacon, highest, $3.00; lowest, Sept., 1878, $1.00; hams, highest, Aug., 1879, $1.50; lowest, June, 1878, $1.00; lard, highest, Sept., 1878, $1.00; lowest, June, 1878, $0.50.
